ALA.NI BIO -

Paris-based Londoner of Grenadian descent, ALA.NI is a multi-disciplinary artist.

A singer/song writer, music producer, visual artist, video director, writer, photographer and all round creative.

Her photography work has been presented in collaboration with Colele Paris, Blue Project Gallery, Barcelona, Art Factory Gallery, Paris.

ALA.NI has directed and conceptualised most of her music videos and sees this visual aspect as an intrinsic part of her music making.

ALA.NI's last album, self-written, produced & arranged, ACCA, released in January 2020, featuring appearances from both Iggy Pop and rapper/actor Lakeith Stanfield (of Atlanta and Sorry To Bother You fame) and recorded entirely a cappella.

ACCA is the follow-up to ALA.NI's widely praised 2016 debut You & I recorded at Andrew Hale's (Sade) Owl Studios & Damon Albarn's (Blur, Gorillaz) Studio 13 with support by the likes of NPR music, The Fader, Elle France, Associated Press and Nylon, with some esteemed fans in the likes of David Lynch, David Byrne and Jean-Baptiste Mondino.

A powerful and uncompromising vision of modern womanhood, ALA.NI is an unapologetically honest and emotional artist in many ways.

A potent, self-reflective work, it revealed a songwriter who was rapidly blossoming, rapidly turning into something special. - Clash magazine

ALA.NI has embarked on an arVsVc path laid out decades ago: her great uncle, Leslie "Hutch" Hutchinson was a king of cabaret in the 1930s mentored by Cole Porter, ALA.NI reached a newfound self-awareness: she looked to the past in both soul and style, and an enduring, jazzy sound emerged. - Interview Magazine

ACCA, then, is astonishingly creative, taking a cappella music to another level - MOJO

ACCA is a step-up: potent and full-bodied - Aesthe@ca Magazine

Her vocal tone is soulful and her emotions seep through every phrase - NPR

There's nothing else like that right now - Iggy Pop

Delivered in tones pure and unaffected, hers are poised, emotionally charged songs - MOJO ****

The most single-minded album you'll hear all year - Q ****

ALA.NI seems to have descended, fully formed, from the heavens - Evening Standard

A curio you didn't know you needed VII it arrived - Observer

An engrossing hymn to love's mad carousel - Clash Magazine

It's almost a let-down to learn that she's not a spectre but a functioning human - The Guardian
